Good News: The new Coronavirus Protection Ordinance for North Rhine-Westphalia now makes trade fairs easier and relaxes many of the restrictions for exhibitors and visitors.

Exhibits and display cases can now be positioned at the edge of your stand area again.

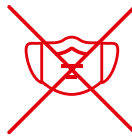

Brochures and information material can now be displayed open again.

The blanket restriction on the number of people has been relaxed. However, please ensure that you maintain the minimum distance.

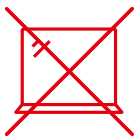

Contact tracing at trade fair stands and in food service areas and the eGuard app are no longer required.

The mask requirement has been removed at fixed seating and standing areas.

You can provide catering for your stand visitors again.

Sneeze guards are no longer required at fixed seating and standing areas.

Parties can be hosted at your stand again - restrictions apply.

The minimum distance requirement has been lifted at fixed seating and standing areas and at talk events. Normal seating is permitted.

To ensure the safety of all exhibitors, visitors and employees, please continue to maintain a distance of 1.5 metres, observe good hygiene, and wear a mask.
